

HOW TO SELECT A STOCK FOR INTRADAY TRADE

What Is Intraday Stock Selection?

- Intraday stock selection means choosing the best stocks to trade within the same day.

Since intraday movements are fast, you must pick stocks that:

- Move with good volume
- Have clear trends
- React to news/events
- Show volatility, but not too much
- Follow market direction
- The goal is to find stocks that can give quick price moves in a few minutes to a few hours.

Market Capitalisation: Large Cap, Mid Cap & Small Cap Companies

1. What is Market Capitalisation (Market Cap)?

- Market Capitalisation = Current Share Price × Total Number of Shares
- It tells you how big a company is in terms of market value.
- Higher market cap = bigger and more stable company.

Example

- Share price = ₹500
- Total shares = 10 crore
- Market Cap = $500 \times 10 \text{ crore} = ₹5,000 \text{ crore}$
- SEBI (Securities and Exchange Board of India) has fixed categories so that all companies are ranked clearly.
- Every 6 months, SEBI updates the list based on: Total market cap
- Ranking among all listed companies

A. Large Cap Companies:

- Top 100 companies in India based on market cap.
- Characteristics
- Very big, stable companies
- Less volatile
- Strong financial history
- Highly liquid (easy to buy and sell)
- Often leaders of their sectors
- Examples:
- Reliance Industries, TCS, HDFC Bank, Infosys, ICICI Bank, Asian Paints.

B. Mid Cap Companies

- Companies ranked 101 to 250 by market cap.
- Characteristics
- Medium-sized companies
- Higher growth potential
- Slightly more volatile than large caps
- Popular among swing/intraday traders
- Examples:
- ABB India, Tata Power, AU Bank, Voltas, Persistent Systems.

C. Small Cap Companies

- Companies ranked 251 and below by market cap.
- Characteristics
- Small companies with limited resources
- Highly volatile
- Low liquidity (difficult to buy/sell large quantity)
- High risk, high reward
- Sharp spikes and sudden crashes

Market Participants (FIIs, DIIs, Retail)

The stock market moves because of three main groups of participants.

- Each group has a different size of capital, different goals, and different trading behaviour. Understanding them helps traders follow where the big money is flowing.

1. FIIs – Foreign Institutional Investors

Who are FIIs?

- FIIs are large financial institutions from outside India who invest huge amounts of money in Indian markets.

Examples include:

- Foreign mutual funds
- Pension funds
- Hedge funds
- Foreign banks

2. DIIs – Domestic Institutional Investors

Who are DIIs?

- These are big Indian financial institutions.

Examples:

- Mutual fund houses
- Indian banks
- Insurance companies (LIC, SBI Life)
- Pension funds

3. Retail Traders

Who are Retail Traders?

These are small individual traders and investors like:

- College students
- Working professionals
- Part-time traders
- Beginners using broker apps

Gap-up & Gap-down Strategies

Three scenarios during market opening

- Gap up opening
- Gap down opening
- Flat/ Neutral opening

1. Gap up opening:

- When today's opening price is higher than yesterday's close.

2. Gap down opening:

- When today's opening price is lower than yesterday's close

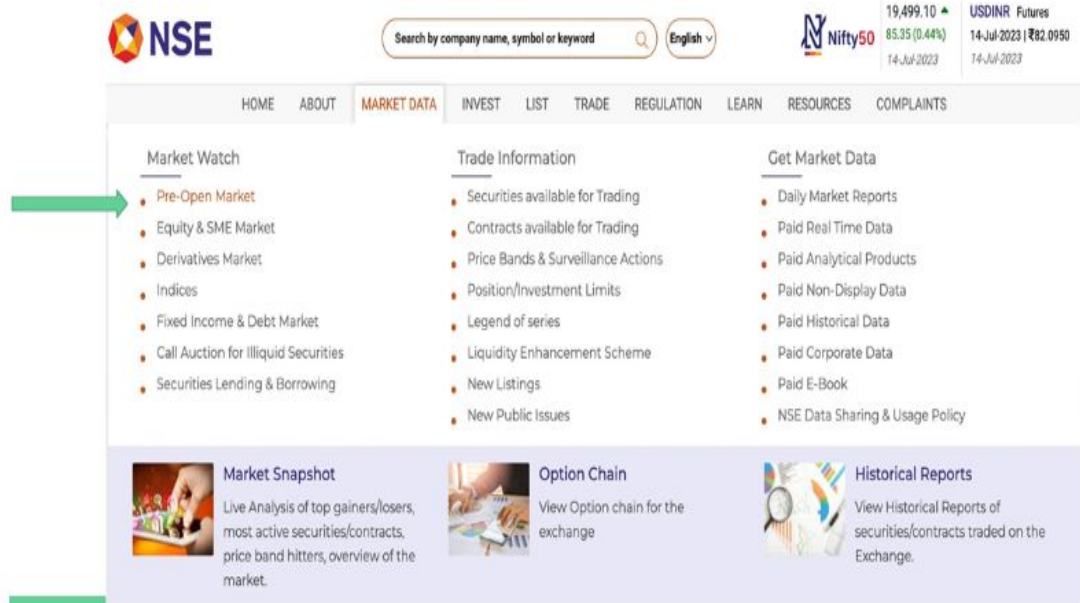

3.Flat/ neutral opening:

- In this type of market opening usually it is sideways and probably not a trending day.

- Strategy When market opens with a gap 70% of the time market will fill the gap within one week, maybe the same day
